Disclaimers

For the avoidance of doubt, TACS remains an independent body and nothing we discuss or arrange between us shall create or imply any partnership at law.

The making of a grant is merely a gift of money to enable an agreed line of research or conservation to take place. The grant recipient does not work on behalf of TACS but is independent.

Any deviations from the requirements specified in the documentation issued to or by TACS must be agreed in advance with TACS and where deviations are unavoidable (e.g. due to unforeseen circumstances) the deviation must be reported to TACS as soon as possible.
